Leader Blasts
Red Tape
In Agencies

ERIE, Feb. 13 (AP)—Gov. Leader told a regional conference today that all governmental agencies need to cut red tape in an effort to provide more jobs and reduce mounting unemployment. Leader spoke at the first in a series of regional meetings he has called to stimulate interest in his plan for a $200 million "crash" program keyed to construction projects. Some 400 industrial and labor leaders along with the Chamber of Commerce and other civic groups attended from eight western Pennsylvania counties. "Help is needed from local and federal governments to create jobs which will reduce mounting unemployment," Leader declared, adding:

Keyed To Plans
"I don't want to oversell or overestimate... we don't have a magic wand. If we can get 10 per cent of the unemployed back on the job perhaps we can get this thing snowballed." Leader emphasized that his program is keyed to plans to accelerate construction and other projects already on the drawing boards. As a typical example he said that some schools which have already been approved for construction can be built sooner than planned. He urged that every effort be made to push all construction schedules ahead.

Brain Surgery
For Yosko

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 13 (AP)—Sen. Joseph J. Yosko, (D-Northampton) underwent a three-hour brain operation at Temple University Hospital today. Doctors said he reacted favorably and that his condition was "good."

Yosko, 54, whose home is in Bethlehem, had gone to the hospital Sunday after complaining of a "general bad feeling." An examination revealed that he had a brain tumor. Physicians said the senator would remain in the hospital for several weeks.

Governors
Call For Federal Work

AUGUSTA, Maine, Feb. 13 (AP)—Eleven Democratic governors told President Eisenhower today that "only enlightened federal action can prevent the recession from feeding on itself and deteriorating further into a depression."

They urged a six-point program including public works, welfare and educational expansion, further easing of credit and possibly a tax cut "directed to low-income families."

Telegram
The governors' proposal was in a telegram to Eisenhower made public by Maine's Gov. Edmund S. Muskie, one of the 11, who said it is "essential that prompt and alert attention be given to present conditions."

Unemployment in Maine, as reflected by claims for state compensation, is almost double that of 1957, Muskie said. It is estimated at 35,000 compared with 20,000 a year ago.

Also signing the telegram to the President were Govs. McNichols of Colorado, Loveless of Iowa, Furcolo of Massachusetts, Williams of Michigan, Freeman of Minnesota, Meyner of New Jersey, Harriman of New York, Holmes of Oregon, Roberts of Rhode Island and Rosellini of Washington.

The telegram was received at the White House but there was no immediate comment.

The telegram made these six specific suggestions:

1. Government action to expand construction in projects which can be started quickly.
2. Larger programs of welfare, education and health.
3. "Realistic federal minimum standards in unemployment insurance... one of the greatest weapons we have to maintain purchasing power."
4. Easier credit. The telegram said: "The tight money policy checked expansion, created unemployment, while failing to hold inflation... The adjustments which have been made thus far are inadequate."
5. A return to "realistic" farm support programs until a "comprehensive and workable program" is developed. Greater use of the present surpluses also was urged.
6. "If the recession is not arrested by other national policies and programs, a federal tax cut may be necessary to stimulate economic activity. In order to provide the maximum stimulus to purchasing power, any such tax relief should be directed to low-income families."

State Studies
Portion Of Shortway Plan

HARRISBURG, Feb. 13 (AP)—The state Highways Department today studied the possibility of relocating a 62-mile section of U.S. Route 322 between Clearfield and Clarion as part of the Keystone Shortway.

A spokesman said final approval has not been given to the idea since on-the-spot surveys must be made and other unidentified factors determined.

U.S. 322 enters the state in the southeast corner at Chester and meanders northwestward, passing into Ohio south of the Pymatuning Reservoir. Between Clearfield and Clarion it passes through or near Curwensville, Reynoldsville, DuBois, and Brookville.

Direct Parallel

The two-lane road directly parallels the proposed general location of the Keystone Shortway between Clearfield and Clarion. The shortway will run about 300 miles between Sharon and Stroudsburg.

"There are a lot of factors to be worked out on this idea," said the spokesman, who declined quotation by name. "The biggest factor is cost."

He indicated that the relocation may tie in with plans to build a bridge to carry the Shortway across the Clarion River southwest of Clarion.

The Leader administration is pushing plans for both the Shortway and the Anthracite Expressway, running between Scranton and Harrisburg, as part of the governor's crash program attacking unemployment.

But before any dirt flies on either project public hearings must be held. The hearings are required by federal law since both roads would be part of the interstate system.

The department repeated its previous position that the public hearing law provides only for listening to objections to a specific route and not to changing the general location of a road.

The Original Route 11 Assn. is seeking to locate the north-south Anthracite Expressway west of the Susquehanna River. Both the Highways Department and the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads have approved its proposed location through coal counties east of the river.

21 Survive
Plane Crash

PALM SPRINGS, Calif., Feb. 13 (AP)—A twin-engine Western Airlines transport, making its daily run from this desert spot to San Diego, crashed-landed and burned just after takeoff this afternoon.

Authorities said 18 passengers and the crew of three ran to safety after the Convair transport slid to a stop.

Britain
Rushes Work
On Missile

LONDON, Feb. 13 (AP)—Britain announced today its scientists are rushing work on a new wonder missile of medium range that can be fired with a nuclear war load from underground bases. The weapon was billed as superior to those in the U.S. arsenal.

The announcement also disclosed that British air fleets are being equipped with hydrogen bombs made in Britain.

These were the salient points of a government White Paper prepared by Defense Minister Duncan Sandys. It constituted an interim report on a five-year program initiated last year to streamline the defense forces for the nuclear-missile age.

Blunt Language

In blunt language the White Paper warned the Kremlin that any Soviet aggression would force the West to hit back with strategic nuclear weapons from bases which will dominate every target of importance in the Soviet Union.

It declared there was "no military reason why a world conflagration should not be prevented for another generation or more through the balancing fears of mutual annihilation. In fact, there is no reason why all this should not go on indefinitely."

This would, however, be a mournful prospect, the report said. It emphasized that the only way to change the prospect is for the East and West to agree on comprehensive disarmament by all nations, coupled with comprehensive inspection and control by a world authority. "Nothing less than this makes sense," it said.

Sandys' sweeping review warned that the West's success in avoiding global war by the strategy of nuclear power poses other dangers.

"The very success of the deterrent compels the Communist powers to seek to achieve their stated goal of world domination by other methods," it said. "It must therefore be expected that they will now increasingly concentrate their efforts upon political subversion, economic penetration and, where the risks to themselves are not too great, indirect military action."

Sandys, son-in-law of former Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill, described the new intermediate-range missiles under development as more advanced than the U. S. IRBM for which four bases soon will be built in the British Isles.

He said Britain had a growing stockpile of atomic weapons and British megaton bombs are in production and deliveries to the Royal Air Force have begun.

A megaton bomb, better known as the hydrogen bomb, has a blasting power equal to one million tons of TNT.

Tunisia
Ready To Make War

TUNIS, Feb. 13 (AP)—President Habib Bourguiba declared today, "We are ready to make war for Bizerte." But he held open the door to mediation by the United States of Tunisia's quarrel with France.

The President also suggested in a broadcast to his tense nation that, while he is determined 15,000 French troops stationed in Tunisia must go, the big French naval base at Bizerte might still be used by the North Atlantic Treaty powers.

That base and French army garrisons are blockaded, jittery Tunisian civilians and national guardsmen, patrolling with light arms, manned roadblocks to prevent the movement of French troops. They threatened to fire on any French ships attempting to enter or leave Bizerte.

Bourguiba's blue eyes flashed as he spoke on this sixth day of a crisis brought on by a French air raid on the frontier village of Sakiet Sidi Youssef.

Tunisia put the toll at 68 men, women and children killed, 84 wounded and 10 not accounted for.

The French said the raid was to punish Algerian rebels who had fired on French planes from their hideouts in Tunisia. But several diplomats, including U. S. Ambassador G. Lewis Jones, are reported to have confirmed that there were heavy civilian casualties.

Minimum Wage Law To Make Area Bow In May

(Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of three articles on new minimum wages for restaurant employees which go into effect in May.)

Don Allen

RESORT owners, operators of drug store lunch counters, restaurant proprietors and other food sellers — not in the institutional field — will have a new law to worry about starting May 12.

That's the date on which the State Department of Labor and Industry starts enforcing a recently enacted minimum wage order which applies to all female employees and to employees of both sexes under the age of 21.

Goal of the order is to raise the hourly wages paid such employees — defined by the department as "service" employees and "non-service" employees.

It contains recommendations of the Wage Board for Restaurants, Hotels and Motels, appointed by William L. Batt, Jr., secretary of the Department of Labor and Industry, to study the wage scales in the food dispensing industry.

The board, chaired by Frederic G. Wier, held four public hearings — at Allentown, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Harrisburg — prior to submitting its report to Batt.

It found, in the words of the report:

"The existing minimum fair wage order for restaurant occupations is obsolete and women and minors are employed in some restaurants, hotels and motels within Pennsylvania at unreasonably low wages which are not sufficient to maintain health and efficiency in such numbers to justify the establishment of a minimum wage order and regulations for women and minors in restaurant, hotel and motel occupations..."

The board recommended "only basic minimum rates to prevent the evils of oppressive, unreasonable and unfair wages," the report said.

In addition to wages, the new order covers such items as allowances for lodging received, ratio of learners to experienced employees, call-in pay, off duty intervals, uniforms, time and method of payment, deductions, travel expenses, employment of handicapped workers and records and statements to employees.

A question and answer sheet prepared by Elizabeth S. Johnson, director of labor and industry's Bureau of Women and Children, spells out the penalty for non-compliance:

"Question: Must the employer pay the minimum wage after May 12?"

"Answer: On May 12, 1958, the order has the force and effect of law according to the Minimum Wage Law. It is then a directory minimum wage order. The department can make the order mandatory with penalties of fine or imprisonment if after three months it finds that the directory order is being violated to a serious degree."

While men are not affected by the new order, the question and answer sheet points out that the Equal Pay Law requires that an employer may not discriminate between men and women in the wages paid for any occupation.

In effect, that means that any proprietor of a food-dispensing establishment must pay at least the minimum established in the new order to all employees, male or female, if the men he employs are not now at or above the minimum.

The order applies to workers at food counters or fountains in drug stores and other establishments and even covers workers at refreshment stands in amusement parks. The latter are to be paid at the non-service rate.

As established by the code, hourly wage rates to non-service employees must be not less than $1.05 without meals and 90 cents with meals. Non-service employees may not be paid less than 73 cent hourly without meals or 58 cents an hour with meals.

Learner rates are 79 cents an hour for non-service employees without meals, or 68 cents hourly with meals. For service employees, learner rates are 55 cents an hour without meals or 44 cents hourly with meals.

The order also provides that the minimum overtime rate shall be one and one-half times the applicable hourly rate for all hours in excess of EITHER eight hours in any one day or of 40 hours in any one work week.

And it adds:

"Every employer shall furnish a statement to each woman or minor employee with each payment of wages which shall clearly show the hours worked, the rates paid, any deductions and the total earnings."

(Tomorrow: The difference between service and non-service employees.)

Work Would Cut Total
Of Jobless

By Leonard Randolph

COUNTY Commissioners yesterday urged rapid action on the Stroudsburg Thruway and other construction projects in this area.

Commissioners said that speed in these projects would fit in perfectly with Gov. George Leader's "crash" program to offset unemployment in the State.

Chairman John R. Lesoine said: "There are a large number of construction programs already outlined and in some cases engineered for Monroe County. If all of these projects are started during the year, Monroe County won't have any unemployment problems."

Among the projects listed by Lesoine and his fellow commissioner Willard Quick, are the following:

June Bidding

The Stroudsburg Thruway, a $10½ million highway construction project. According to latest estimates — contained in a regional report — the Thruway should be up for bidding no later than June. Lesoine termed this the backbone of local construction employment once the job gets underway.

The $3 million flood control project on Broadheads and McMichaels Creeks in The Stroudsburgs. This program now appears to be endangered by failure of a utility company and State and local officials to agree on who can or will pay the costs of relocating the company's lines which stand in the way of the project.

Route 45051 construction work in Cherry Valley. Construction on Route 940 in the Pocono Lake section. Reconstruction and relocation work on the Anasimink-Wooddale road for removal of a bad S-curve there.

"All of these projects — and the Keystone Shortway — are of vital importance to the community and to other nearby counties which are directly or indirectly served by them," Lesoine said. "And, as a part of the Governor's overall program to combat unemployment, they become even more important."

Lesoine noted that plans for nearly all the above projects have already been drawn up and approved. In a few cases — the Cherry Valley section of Route 90, for example — he said that contracts have now been let for construction.

In addition to those, Lesoine said, construction is also set for Route 45045 from Kresgeville to Jonas. Work in this highway is expected to begin in "early Spring," according to the regional utilities coordination committee report.

Jobs to be done which are still not completely planned, but which could be set in motion during the year, include these, Lesoine said:

The interborough bridge running between Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg, still in the planning stage; Route 90 from Roseto to Monroe County, completely planned but not yet bid; construction on Route 45003 from Kunkletown to Gilbert where plans are not complete but the job is expected to be advertised for bids sometime in 1958.

Working On Plans

Highways department engineers are now working on plans for the Saylorburg-Wind Gap Bypass and the extension from Saylorburg to Snyder'sville, Lesoine said.

"Each of these additional projects, no matter how small the job might be, will cut down the number of persons without jobs in Monroe County," the commissioner chairman said. "For that reason, we feel that we will be able to go to the Governor's conference next week in Scranton with a fully-prepared list of projects for recommended early action in this area."

The conference to which Lesoine referred is one of seven regional meetings set by the Governor. It is to be held at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium in Scranton.

Commissioners received a telegram from Gov. Leader yesterday urging them to attend the meeting "and review local (Please turn to Page Three)

Bright Sun Melts Snow In South, But
Florida Warned To Expect New Freeze

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 13 (AP)—A bright sun wiped patches of snow off the face of the South today but Florida, plagued by cold all winter, was warned to expect another freeze Friday morning.

Fresh winds pushed cold, drying air into the area and small craft warnings were up from Tampa, on the Florida Gulf Coast, southward through the Florida Keys and north to Cape Hatteras, N. C.

All precautions should be taken for all growing plants and citrus groves, where equipment should be ready to light fires, said Warren Johnson of the Federal-State Frost Warning Service at Lakeland, Fla.

The snow reached all the way from Amarillo and other Texas Panhandle points to Savannah, Ga., and Cross City, Fla.

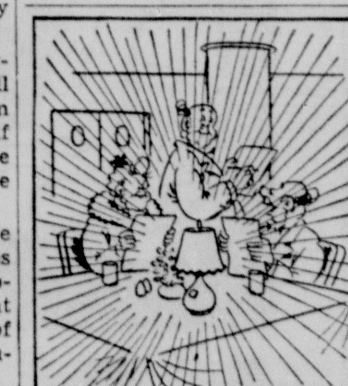

Snow which fell on the Mardi gras celebration in New Orleans melted rapidly as the mercury climbed from a low of 27 degrees. Schreveport, La., reported 18 degrees. It was 16 at Meridian and McComb, Miss.

Two inches of snow—heavyest fall in 70 years—covered some sections of South Georgia. There was a four-hour fall at Thomasville, where President Eisenhower arrived during the afternoon for a vacation.

Snow stretched across north Florida, from Pensacola to Jacksonville. The capital city of Tallahassee had a record three inches, exceeding the two-inch fall recorded in 1895. The southern edge of the snow belt was at Cross City, Fla., more than 100 miles southeast of Tallahassee.

Jacksonville reported 1½ inches first measurable snowfall there since this date in 1899 when 1.9 inches fell.

The fall ranged up to four inches in the Mobile, Ala.; area.

Lehman Requests Delaware Valley Merger

Township Now Part Of East Borough

DINGMANS FERRY — Lehman Township School Board has petitioned Delaware Valley Joint School Board for a merger with the jointure.

Its petition, presented at the February meeting by Dr. J. S. Bullock, chairman of the administrative committee, pointed out that the jointure would acquire approximately $1,000,000 worth of school properties at an increase in enrollment of 71 pupils.

Also to be considered is an increase in the teaching staff in order to maintain state requirements for financial assistance, extension of services of the supervising principal, nursing and physical education facilities and transportation costs.

Lehman Township students currently attend the East Stroudsburg Jointure.

One of the reasons the township is considering joining Delaware Valley is a proposed building campaign in the East Stroudsburg schools which would result in a higher tax rate for the township.

No Action

No action was taken on the petition. It was tabled until the March meeting.

It was announced Mrs. Florence B. Nagel has been hired as fourth grade teacher at Matamoros and Mrs. Bethel Steiner, formerly a substitute, has taken over as sixth grade teacher at Milford.

The board adopted Thursday, June 5, as Commencement Day and granted permission for Junior Historians to attend a northeast conference meeting at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

The board approved a recommendation of Dr. Bennett S. Strait that pre-school children who have not reached a mental age of five and one-half be excluded from first grade. They are tested at pre-school clinics.

R. Lloyd Jones, Pike County school superintendent, reported on the governor's conference on Education held last month and said Delaware Valley Joint Schools compare favorably with schools of the same size and even larger as to curriculum and facilities.

He said the high school ranks with the best in the state and is approved by the Middle Atlantic States Accrediting Assn.

Irving Karpe, chairman, reported on plans for the state Road-E-O, scheduled for here in June.

Program Plans
Howard Popkin, president, reported a Bosses' Night program will be held March 12 with Eugene Hippler as chairman.

Bob Widmer and Pete Wyckoff will chairmen the Stroudsburg Easter egg hunt, sponsored by the Jaycees.

Guests at the meeting included Morgan Doughton of Allentown, state first vice president, and Norbert Huber, Jim Thorpe, a national director of the organization.

GOP Leaders To Meet In Allentown

REPUBLICAN leaders from 14 counties have been invited to attend a regional meeting in Allentown next Tuesday to discuss party policy and recommendations for candidates.

B. K. Williams, Monroe County GOP chairman, said the meeting is one of six being held throughout the state. Their purpose is to give every county a voice in the formulation of Republican Party policy, he explained.

National Committeeman Jay Cooke, National Committeewoman Mrs. Gaynelle M. Dixon, State Chairmen George I. Bloom and State Vice Chairman Mrs. Ruth Glenn Pennell are among the prominent Republicans scheduled to attend.

"From these meetings," said Bloom, "will come the outline for a positive policy to guide the Republican party to victory in November. We must determine what Republicans can best do for—as well as define those things which we must oppose."

East Borough Teachers List Amendment

EAST Stroudsburg Area Jointure Teachers Assn. yesterday appointed a committee to formulate an amendment to its constitution which will allow creation of a PSEA branch in its district.

Named to the committee by president Paul Bartholomew were Harold K. Lee, chairman; Delores Lesoine and Bernard Frantz, members.

The job of the committee is to set up the legal framework which will put the ESAJ teachers group in operation as one of three regional PSEAs in the County. This is in line with the recently revitalized County PSEA and its policy.

Public Relations

The association also selected a public relations committee to act for it. Mrs. Kathleen Butz was named chairman. Members are: Mrs. Alice White, Mrs. Elsie LeBar, James Rine, and Jerrold Fritz.

The group heard a further report from Robert Burrows, chairman of its salary committee. Burrows reported on his conference with David Stafford, director of research for the Pennsylvania State Education Assn. in Harrisburg.

The committee head also discussed the present tax structure of districts in the jointure and pointed to possible new sources of revenue for those districts.

Two & Three-Quarters Percent Treasury Bonds of 1958-63

(Dated June 15, 1958)

Notice of Call for Redemption

To Holders of 2 1/4 percent Treasury Bonds of 1958-63, and Others Concerned:

1. Public notice is hereby given that all outstanding 2 1/4 percent Treasury Bonds of 1958-63, dated June 15, 1958, due June 15, 1963, are hereby called for redemption on June 15, 1958, on which date interest on such bonds will cease.

2. Holders of these bonds may, in advance of the redemption date, be offered the privilege of exchanging all or any part of their called bonds for other interest-bearing obligations of the United States, in which event public notice will hereafter be given and an official circular governing the exchange offering will be issued.

3. Full information regarding the presentation and surrender of the bonds for cash redemption under this call will be found in Department Circular No. 300, Revised, dated April 30, 1955.

Heart Surgeon Speaks To County Committee

DR. ROBERT Glover, one of the world's most famous heart surgeons, last night addressed an open public meeting sponsored by the Monroe County Heart Committee.

The open meeting followed a dinner at which four outstanding high school students interested in medicine or research were honored. It was held in the Penn-Stroud Hotel ballroom.

Dr. Glover, who is credited with new methods of surgery which have saved the lives of hundreds of critically ill heart patients, noted that such surgery is relatively new—only a decade old.

He prefaced his talk on cardiovascular disease with the comment that "heart disease is the number one disease in the world and the heart is the most vital organ in the human body."

In America, he said, 10 million people suffer from some form of cardiovascular ailment. "During the last war, when they drafted the first two million men—from the age of 18 and 36—they turned down 200,000 for cardiovascular reasons," Dr. Glover said. "In the U. S. each year, an estimated 800,000 persons die of heart or circulatory conditions."

Yet the heart, he said, is the

Heart Committee Reveals Scientific Project For Young Students In County

MONROE County Heart Committee last night announced a science project to encourage young local students interested in medicine.

On April 18, the Committee—which is financed by voluntary gifts collected during the annual Heart Fund drive—will send four outstanding science students from local schools to a top research laboratory in Philadelphia.

All four of the students are interested in medicine as a potential career. In April they will spend a full day with Dr. Robert Glover, director of the Thoracic and Cardiovascular Research Laboratory at Presbyterian Hospital, Philadelphia, and his staff.

The students were introduced last night at a special dinner meeting in their honor at the Penn-Stroud Hotel. Attending with them, as guests of honor, also, were principals, science and physical education teachers of the county's high schools.

The project is part of the Heart Committee's drive to make the heart program effective in local schools. Paul E. McBride, vice president of the committee, introduced the research students:

Susan Shafer, Stroud Union High School, a member of the honor society, the band, newspaper, yearbook staff and a representative in the school's science fair, who is interested in medicine.

Dorothy May, East Stroudsburg Area Joint Senior High School, a member of the junior historical society, senior play cast, the school math team, winner of the DAR Good Citizen award, Exchange Club "Girl of the Month" for January, who wants to be a medical doctor.

Patricia Plantz, Polk Township High School, Kresgeville, part of the Pleasant Valley Joint School system, active on the school yearbook, in the band, glee club, on the school magazine who is registered at St. Luke's School of Nursing for the next school term.

Patricia Knowles, Tobyhanna Township High School of the Pocono Mountains Joint School system, who was not present at the dinner, a member of the staff of the school yearbook, magazine, orchestra, glee club and dance club who is interested in nursing and other allied fields in medicine.

At the same time, McBride announced that the Heart Committee is also sponsoring Miss Genevieve Zimbar, of the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College health education department, at the major health conference to be held at Temple University Feb. 27-28.

Dr. Harold S. Pond, past president of the local committee and a director of the Pennsylvania Heart Assn., presented educational kits to all school personnel present at the meeting. The kits listed films available for showing, booklets on safeguards for cardiac students and suggestions for heart education in the schools.

Guests at the dinner included the following: Coolbaugh Township School, Tobyhanna—Neil Pelumbo, principal and Donald Wismer, physical education instructor; Pocono Mountain Joint Schools, Pocono Pines—C. Willis Dunlap, principal; Ronald Davis, science and John Bush, physical education teacher; Barrett Township School, Cresco—Joseph Murray, health and physical education and Justin Feltham, science; Pleasant Valley Joint Schools, Brodheadville—William Frear, physical education and Howard Hobbs, advanced sciences.

Also East Stroudsburg Area Joint Senior High School, Lewis Hastie, science and Ralph O. Burrows, principal; East Stroudsburg State Teachers College—Miss Genevieve Zimbar, health education department; Polk Township High School, Kresgeville—Richard Zimmerman, biology teacher; Arthur A. Smith, physical education; Harry T. Young, principal; Stroud Union High School—T. Manning Curtis, physical education; Thomas Knepp, science and Alfred W. Munson, principal; Pocono Township School, Tannersville—George Learn Jr., science; Richard Rugg Jr., science and Lawrence Wile, principal.

Court Makes Settlement

A MONROE County Court jury yesterday awarded $4,000 to Ray Kelper in a trespass action brought against Paul Marquart.

The case grew out of a claim by Kelper for injuries to his hand sustained in a fall in August, 1956, when Kelper was occupying a house owned by Marquart.

A faulty drain pipe had leaked water into the basement of the home, according to Kelper's testimony during the trial, and when Kelper went to the basement to turn on a water pump he failed to notice the damp area, slipped and his hand and arm went through a window pane as he fell.

One finger was permanently injured, while another was not as severely damaged, it was brought out in testimony.

When court adjourned, testimony was being taken on two companion cases, both charging trespass.

In the first, C. E. Clarke, trading as C. E. Clarke and Sons, is suing Ronald Slutter. The companion case lists Earl J. Slutter as complainant and Clarke as defendant.

J. C. Scanlon is representing the Slutters in both cases. G. T. Robinson and Smith and Eves are attorneys for Clarke in the case in which he is plaintiff, while Robinson is his attorney in the other action.

What About Merger?

Interest in proposals to consolidate the twin boroughs—or at least merge certain municipal facilities—was running high only a few months ago.

Chief basis for the wave of optimism was an independent study made by the Pennsylvania Economy League at the invitation of the Stroudsburg Rotary Club. This survey pointed out the many benefits which would accrue to the Stroudsburgs through consolidation.

A substantial savings in tax money was one of the major benefits mentioned. This would result from a merger of police, fire, water, sewerage and street departments.

It is recalled that there was widespread interest in the idea before the study was undertaken. This came about through the efforts of a committee representing the Central Labor Union.

One of the major benefits of consolidation, from the CLU point of view, was the obvious advantage one large community has over smaller towns in attracting new industries.

The CLU also gave prominent billing to the economy in municipal operating costs which would follow if the two boroughs were to consolidate. Other benefits also were listed.

The last we heard of the merger proposal was that names were to be obtained on petitions asking that the issue be placed before the voters. There was no definite decision on whether the referendum would come at the May 20 Primary Election or at the General Election in November.

The electorate should be well informed on all sides of the matter before it is asked to vote on consolidation. This should come about through an orderly process in which both proponents and opponents are given an equal opportunity to present their case in public.

If May is the target date, we suggest that all organizations and individuals favoring a referendum coordinate their efforts without delay so the public can become acquainted with all the angles well in advance of the election.

Crisis In Higher Education

President Howard R. Bowen of Grinnell College—a small but distinguished liberal arts institution—points out that this country faces an acute crisis in higher education, and that it is being precipitated by three factors.

First, there is the high birth rate which started in the 1940s. Where there are about nine million young people of college age now, the number is expected to reach 14 million by 1970 or soon thereafter—an increase of 55 per cent.

Second, the percentage of young people attending college increases rapidly. At present, Mr. Bowen says, about a third of all young people of college age are in college, as against 15 per cent in 1940 and eight per cent in 1920.

Third, the nation's need for educated people is growing—and on top of this

"the sheer growth of knowledge requires a longer period of education for a person to become an educated man than was true in former years."

Mr. Bowen reviews some of the complex and controversial problems and questions with which education is now concerned. In his view, the role of liberal arts colleges should be to stress quality rather than quantity, and to grow "only when growth is not achieved at the expense of quality."

This is certainly a wise approach—sheer size is no criterion of worth. And another point may be added. Industry and individuals should do their utmost to provide our private colleges and universities with the increasing sums of money they need. The alternative is government subsidy of education—which would ultimately mean political control of education.

Robert S. Allen Reports...

Schwartz' Bombshell

Washington, Feb. 13—There is no roof-rattling dynamite in those secret files of ousted general counsel Bernard Schwartz.

Members of the turbulent, embattled House subcommittee investigating the administrative agencies expected some surprises in these voluminous records. But they got a lot more than they had apparently feared.

The New York law professor left behind him a number of jarring documents.

Foremost among them is a 60-page report on the activities in various government agencies of Murray Chotiner, the Los Angeles attorney who is a close friend and former campaign manager of Vice President Nixon.

This detailed dossier obviously was to be the basis for an extensive airing of Chotiner's operations in Washington.

Among the major agencies with which he is linked in this explosive study are: Internal Revenue Service, Federal Communications Commission, Federal Trade Commission, Civil Aeronautics Board, and the Justice and Postoffice Departments.

The headline names listed in the numerous cases cited include: Sherman Adams, top White House assistant to the President; Leonard Hall, former Republican National Chairman; Bernard Shanley, former White House secretary; John Doerfer, chairman of the FCC; former Attorney General Herbert Brownell; and Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield.

Only one committee member had prior knowledge of this TNT-loaded document. Rep. Morgan Moulder (D-Mo.), who quit as probe chairman when Schwartz was fired as general counsel, knew about the secret Chotiner report and the intention to investigate him. Schwartz had given Moulder a full fill-in on the matter, and they agreed to say nothing about it for fear of causing another disruptive row.

Other bombshells found in Schwartz' files are: Memorandum about an FBI investigation of a Federal Communications commissioner concerning the granting of a TV license.

Three-page report on the activities in government agencies of former Governor Thomas Dewey. Also a detailed account of a committee agent's interview with Dewey concerning a $100,000 fee paid him by a leading airline in a case involving the CAB.

Letter charging one of the committee members with drawing unwarranted travel and per diem payment from the government. This probe voted repeatedly against Schwartz.

What next?—This is the third congressional group to start an investigation of Chotiner without finishing it. This extraordinary record, as explained to Morse and Williams, is as follows:

Two years ago the Senate Government Operations Committee, headed by Senator John McClellan (D-Ark.) began probing the powerful Los Angeles lawyer. Three hearings were held; two of them public, one behind closed doors. Chotiner was present at two; one public, the other private.

That was the last heard of this matter from the McClellan Committee. It has never made a report of any kind about the curiously-dropped investigation.

Last May the probe got an unexpected new lease on life. It was quietly shifted from the Senate to the House Government Operations Committee.

This backstage transfer occurred as the result of a request by Representatives William Dawson (D-Ill.), chairman of that House Committee. He wrote McClellan that, in the course of other inquiries, considerable information had been accumulated concerning Chotiner and asked for the file on him.

This material was turned over to the House probers through an assist by the late Senator Joseph McCarthy.

One of the last things the Wisconsinite did, before he died, was to vote with the Democrats on the McClellan Committee to allow the House Committee to take over the dormant investigation of the close friend and campaign manager of Vice President Nixon. Toward the end, McCarthy had become very critical of Nixon.

Dawson turned the Chotiner data over to a subcommittee headed by Representative John Blatnik (D-Minn.). His staff began working on the matter, but no hearings, public or private, took place.

It is indicated that Schwartz obtained the Chotiner file for the purpose of taking up where the McClellan and Blatnik committees had left off. What happens next on this long-pending investigation remains to be seen.

There are about 20 thousand species of birds in the world and about 800 of them are in the United States.

Post Office Mess

If an incumbent Postmaster General could be convinced that criticism of the Post Office is not criticism of the Postmaster General, as it cannot be since the difficulties go way back into American history and for which Congress is responsible as any individual, more progress could be made in rehabilitating this organization.

The Post Office is a business and requires business management. It is also a public service and requires the broad outlook of the first and most usual contact that every citizen has with his government.

It is also a source of political patronage for politicians and therefore has undoubtedly been the most abused of all governmental institutions. It is a difficult agency to manage.

The Post Office is neither modern in its methods nor efficient in its operations. The Hoover Reports have established many of the shortcomings of this enterprise.

Taking it for granted that the present Postmaster General, Arthur E. Summerfield, is an excellent business manager, he would not operate his own business with antiquated tools and obsolete methods. In most matters, he has parried nothing to say as to what the Post Office should do because he is bound by tight laws passed by Congress over the past century and a half or more.

Senator Olin Johnston, in an article, calls attention to these two facts: "First, our Post Office was not designed to make money for the government. Created by the Continental Congress in 1775, it was conceived as a service to the people, in contrast to the practice in other countries, where post offices were run as money-makers for kings."

"Second, the money you pay for such Post Office purchases as stamps does not go to the Post Office. Every cent the Post Office receives goes into the general fund of the Treasury. Every cent it spends comes from appropriations by Congress. When revenues are less than the Congressional appropriations, we have the familiar 'Post Office deficit.'"

In a word, the Post Office may not have a deficit at all or the deficit may be larger than appears. The Post Office does not know. It carries operations for other agencies of government which are charged to it such as the deer and grouse census in Michigan that Senator Johnston tells about. The Post Office registers aliens for the Department of Justice, for instance.

The cost of such registration is charged to the Post Office and makes up the deficit. You ought to read Senator Olin Johnston's article in the February "Reader's Digest" to realize how much of this sort of thing goes on.

Two proper special groups are interested in modernizing and rationalizing the Post Office bookkeeping system, if nothing else. One group is the citizens who regard the Post Office as an important instrument of business because of their dependence upon the mails for their services; the other group are the postal workers who are inadequately paid.

As the bookkeeping system of the Post Office, controlled by acts of Congress, is so antiquated that nobody really knows whether there is a deficit or not, everyone there is a public outcry about the size of the deficit or whenever the Post Office employees want higher pay, the only answer seems to be to charge more for stamps and services or to abolish a service. This defeats the purpose of the very existence of the Post Office.

For instance, this year, the question of increased pay for postal employees must come before Congress. The Majority Leader, Lyndon Johnson, in a speech on the Senate floor, warned that when the question of Postal pay legislation arose, he had been informed by both Republican and Democratic Senators that they would introduce amendments to raise the rates.

The Post Office does not need a profit, but it ought not to claim a deficit unless by the best accounting methods, a realistic deficit is established. Senator Olin Johnston said:

"... Pay increases for Postal or other Federal employees should not and must not depend on the increased revenues from postage rates. Unless we wish to limit future pay adjustments for the employees of the Agriculture Department until that Department's budget is balanced or of the employees of the Internal Revenue Service unless and until taxes are increased, and so on down the line, we had better not set this dangerous precedent."

The Pennsylvania Story

GOP Camp Calm

By Mason Denison Harrisburg — It is significant that as yet there have been no down to earth dogfights among Pennsylvania Republicans seeking either the gubernatorial or U. S. senatorial nod.

For the most part those who have timidly announced for either office so far have contented themselves with quietly purring about the state creating as little commotion as possible.

For Pennsylvania GOPsters who over the years have become somewhat notorious for their intra-party squabbling, tiffs and sluggests, the condition unquestionably is unique.

At the same time it is baffling to already split Democrats who are riding out a primary slugging that threatens to leave them all but prostrate at the finish line.

The apparent calm that has settled over Keystone State Republicans is understandable when the underlying factors are considered.

First of all, Republicans this year lack the vibrant hard-driving organization of a decade ago, or even the bitter propelling factionalism split that energized their blood but sent them down to defeat less than four years ago.

Secondly there is an umbrella of caution that blankets the GOParty in Pennsylvania today — almost completely absent a few years ago — which has served to tone down some of the more forceful and demanding characters.

Thirdly, Pennsylvania Republicans for once are fighting for a tooth and nail financial existence. The big moneybags of yesterday are missing. While the GOP chiefs are not thinking of moving into wigwags — they do not have the kind of financial support they once enjoyed.

Of course being the minority party for a change has taken the wind out of many sails. A Republican candidate for either of the two top offices well knows that now any hopes of winning are contained in a dog eat dog fight this November.

In other words, coasting days are over. Additionally, as the minority party Republicans have lost considerable prestige and the usual hangers-on following that goes with majority status.

Combined, these factors have served to paint anything but an encouraging picture for GOP hopefuls.

It is true that there is a fairly large swath of potential who are willing to run for either of the two major offices — providing there is either a "strong sentiment" or an out and out "draft" of their candidacy.

This year as each GOP hopeful knows, it is a flat gamble on the November scoreboard.

It is not the answered walk-off of yesterday. Pennsylvania Democrats since they moved into the gubernatorial suite in January of 1955 have left little grass sprout under their feet.

While they may not have the top organization Republicans enjoyed not too many years ago, they have improved considerably to the point where they now comprise a formidable foe.

The lack of dogfights for office within the GOP camp is understandable.

In simple terms, the feeling persists that under the circumstances it just isn't worth it.

True, it is a new and unique attitude for Republicans to strike. The fact remains however that there is little choice. In the end, ironically, it could be the salve to heal the wound.

Good Evening Ladies!

Get Along Without Women

By Ken Duvall Men are far better off without women and should shun the female like the plague, says my voluminous gentleman correspondent. Show him a woman! I'll show him a happy man, he keeps writing. He, himself, is so happy that he sends me ten-page letters, with marginal notes and phrases taken from Gospel, underlined with red crayon.

Very well, my friend, just come with me to a hangout of womenless men and let's take a look at this crew of temporary or permanent celibates. This is a place known as a stag bar. The management brags that no feminine foot has crossed its threshold since the day it opened. It is the asylum of men who are on the lam from women.

There they sit, this merry crew, hunched on their stools and staring at the labels on the backbar. From the rear, they look for all the world like the back view of the starting-gate at Churchill Downs on Derby Day.

On the first stool sits a gentleman who has just learned that while a bad woman can wreck many homes, a good woman sometimes wrecks just one—her own. As he sips his marriage-on-the-rocks, he has, it would seem, every reason to be happy because he is, at last, free of the harried woman made his life miserable for so long.

The forty-ish gent next to him has never married because he believes all marriages are like that of the first gent, and he's not stepping into any trap like that. No wife could give him anything he can't get elsewhere. Moreover, he believes his money is his own and he's not about to account for it to any woman. His stomach also is his own, and as he sips his ginger ale he has the satisfaction of knowing that he alone ruined it. He wants no gummy kids climbing on his bony knees and spoiling the crease in his impeccable trousers.

Next is a fellow who is married and who loves his wife, in his own way, but hasn't told her so for twenty years. She has given him a beautiful home, three fine children now out on their own, nursed him through half a dozen sicknesses, fed him well and looked after him like a mother. He was pretty tired of all this until his wife was called to the bedside of her father, many miles away, and left him to shift for himself. He's seriously considering suicide after a week of restaurant eating. Meanwhile, he's getting stiff.

At his elbow is a guy whose philosophy is strictly love-em-and-leave-em. Every time he sees a pretty woman, he drools and smacks his lips like Arthur Godfrey tasting a sponsor's food product. But he has loved and left so many that the supply has run out and now the girls avoid him like poison. He is very sorry for himself because, as he believes, man was not made to live alone but you can't trust women—so what can you do?

The four active pallbearers at the other end of the bar are a bachelor, a deserted husband, a widower and an old fellow who has only memories to snuggle up to on cold nights. This is the port of men-without-women. You can have it, brother.

Inside Washington

Ex-Presidents To Testify

By Henry Cathcart Central Press Writer

Washington — The new investigation of the administration's foreign policy by the Senate foreign relations committee will bring some of the nation's outstanding citizens to the witness stand. Former Presidents Harry S. Truman and Herbert Hoover are slated to testify along with ex-Secretary of State Dean Acheson and other foreign policy experts.

The sweeping inquiry will drag out over the next two or three months. However, there may not be as many explosive charges as the Senate missile-satellite inquiry produced. The reason is this: Neither the Democrats nor the Republicans want to be accused of sabotaging bipartisan foreign policy and will have to be careful of their public utterances.

Undoubtedly there will be criticism of the Eisenhower administration policies in some areas, but the theme more likely will center on a call for unity among Americans to meet the Communist threat.

Bombers Not Obsolete—Despite the clamor for accelerated development of missiles, a number of congressional leaders are calling for construction of additional bombers to maintain a first line of defense.

Senator Richard B. Russell (D), Georgia, chairman of the Senate armed services committee, feels the United States must step up the Strategic Air Command while missiles are being perfected.

Russell predicted that Congress will increase funds for the SAC, on grounds that manned bombers are not obsolete yet.

Air Force leaders have testified before the Senate preparedness committee that SAC is still the backbone of U.S. retaliatory power against any aggressor. The Senate group was sufficiently impressed by the testimony to recommend that the command be modernized and strengthened.

Dispersal of Air Bases—Another controversy looms over present Air Force plans to disperse the heavy bomber bases. Some senators fear this would imperil some large population centers.

The Senate armed services committee approved the money asked by the administration for dispersal of Strategic Air Command bombers—but only on condition it could not be used for scattering the bombers to locations "already considered prime targets."

A little-noticed report by the committee charged that present Air Force plans for dispersal would imperil a large U.S. city and increase chances of enemy attack on other areas. No locations were mentioned, but one city the senators felt would be endangered is Detroit.

Other danger spots in the AF plan could be Atlanta, Ga., and the Dayton, O. area. Robbins Air Force Base south of Atlanta, and Wright-Patterson Base near Dayton are indicated in the Air Force dispersal plans.

Three Cats Missed By Children

by Jim Riley

It was never my pleasure to know the three little kittens who lost their mittens.

But, I do know of three children who have lost their cats. In each case they are well loved pets.

The cats belong to a boy and two girls who live on Pokona Ave., Stroudsburg. They are Timmy Walsh, 1705 Pokona Ave., Debbie Storm, 1676 Pokona Ave., and Tanya Klingel, 1736 W. Main St.

Debbie's pet is a jet black animal, while Tanya's feline is gray and white. Timmy's cat is of the tiger variety, complete with a "Raccoon-like" tail.

Parents of the children believe that the three cats wandered away together and may have crossed Route 209.

Anyone seeing these cats, or any one of the touring trio, is asked to contact parents of the children as soon as possible.

These cats are sadly missed by the youngsters.

Former Sen. and Mrs. Montgomery F. Crowe are scheduled to leave for an extended trip through South America tomorrow.

The Crowes live at 210 Park Ave., Stroudsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Williams, 505 Fulmer Ave., Stroudsburg, are currently on a vacation trip.

They are now taking in the sights of Florida.

Frank McNamara, host at Gap View Inn, is also among those fortunate enough to be on vacation.

Frank is visiting in the Virgin Islands.

Betty Schoonover, American House, is also on tour of the south.

The journey includes a trip in the Caribbean Sea.

Al Bieseker, he's the man of diner fame, picks the Chicago White Sox to win the American League pennant next season.

He's willing to concede, but not happy, that the New York Yankees will be somewhere in the first division.

Pocono Mountains resorts had their best winter sports possibilities in several years during the past weekend, although Friday is late for arrival of snow, as far as weekend tourists are concerned.

Plenty of warning has been made for the coming weekend and there should be a lot of winter sports enthusiasts on hand.

It's been a long time since we've had an amount of snow comparable to the one on the ground at the present time.

Try and Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

In the good old vaudeville days of 40 years ago, recalls George Burns, a good joke was worth its weight in gold, because an act could use it for months on end all the way across the country. Comedians really got angry, there.

The Senate armed services committee approved the money asked by the administration for dispersal of Strategic Air Command bombers—but only on condition it could not be used for scattering the bombers to locations "already considered prime targets."

A little-noticed report by the committee charged that present Air Force plans for dispersal would imperil a large U.S. city and increase chances of enemy attack on other areas. No locations were mentioned, but one city the senators felt would be endangered is Detroit.

Other danger spots in the AF plan could be Atlanta, Ga., and the Dayton, O. area. Robbins Air Force Base south of Atlanta, and Wright-Patterson Base near Dayton are indicated in the Air Force dispersal plans.

"If you must know," retorted Burns laughingly, "I got that gag straight out of Madison's Joke Manual."

Block answered weakly, "But I read it in the first edition!"

An 8-year-old boy in the spanning new Denver Public Library demanded a book on hypnotism. "I want something," he explained, "that will tell me how to hypnotize my brother into washing the dishes every night."

Temple Israel To Feature Service

TEMPLE Israel will hold its Sabbath service at 8 p.m. tonight. Following the service Mr. and Mrs. Murray Blumman will give a reception in honor of the forthcoming Bar-Mitzvah of their son Michael in New York City next week.

Rabbi Joshua Soden will dedicate his sermon to the memory of Haym Salomon, the Polish born Jew who helped finance the American Revolutionary War.

Scout Sabbath

Tonight has also been designated as Scout Sabbath and Boy Scout members of Temple Israel are invited to attend along with their Boy Scout friends of other faiths.

Services are held on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Suspension For Negro Girl

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 13 (AP)—Minnie Jean Brown, one of the nine Negro students at Little Rock Central High School, was suspended today for two weeks and Supt. Virgil Blossom recommended that she be expelled from the school for the rest of the year.

Minnie Jean, a 15-year-old junior, has been involved in a number of incidents with white students. She was suspended first prior to the Christmas holidays for throwing soup at a white boy in what Blossom called "a fit of temper."

Kushner Big Winner At Chess

JOSEPH Kushner, Stroudsburg Chess Club champion, was the big winner during the weekly meeting.

He won one and lost one to Edward Bosman, beat Louis Mondelle, William P. Deering and an anonymous player. Bosman beat James Heaterington.

Split Two

President John M. Price split two decisions with John Slaboski, lost one and had a draw with Deering.

Bosman, playing two boards at once, defeated Deering and an incognito player.

Chou En-lai Quits Post

HONG KONG, Feb. 13 (AP)—Chou En-lai stepped down as Red China's foreign minister today and a close associate, tubby Vice Premier Chen Yi, took his place. Chou remained on as Premier with his high standing in the government apparently as firm as ever.

Peiping radio said the change was recommended by Shou himself as part of a shakeup in ministries aimed at streamlining the Communist machinery for the start of the nation's second five-year plan.

Auto Theft Suspect Under Arrest

AN 18-YEAR-OLD Philadelphia, wanted for questioning on auto theft charges, was returned to that city from East Stroudsburg yesterday.

Two detectives escorted George William Hatton, 1621 Mount Pleasant Ave., on his return trip. Hatton turned himself into East Stroudsburg police late Wednesday.

Police said he was driving an auto owned by Edward H. Elliott, 1620 Murdock Road, Philadelphia.

Hatton escaped from Philadelphia's 14th Precinct police station two days ago while being questioned regarding a car theft.

This Week Is National Beauty Salon Week

February 9-15

Well-groomed Women everywhere depend on regular professional beauty care

Professional Permanent Waving Is Modern Magic For Coiffure Beauty . . . .

Today's professional permanent wave is the modern magic touch essential to the beauty of today's coiffures.

Without this magic touch we could not have the freedom and mobility inherent in the coiffure designs of today nor could today's hair fashions be translated to enhance the distinctive characteristics of every individual woman.

During the week of February 9-15, National Beauty Salon Week, we recognize that today's permanent wave is the result of a tremendous amount of careful laboratory research. Added to this study is an extensive collaboration with the professional hairdresser whose years of training and experience create permanent waving individually prescribed to suit the needs of every woman's hair.

Individual prescription in permanent waving is extremely important, since we all have different hair characteristics. The hair of some of us is very fine, some not so fine, some damaged or healthy, or overly porous. Each requires individual attention.

Contrary to most beliefs, professional permanent waves are not designed simply to put a curl into your hair. It is far more important that your permanent give and maintain the shape of the coiffure that is specifically becoming to your features and their proportions, and that it will make your hair manageable and easy to care for in between hair-dressing appointments.

Of equal importance today is the fact that the modern professional permanent wave also conditions your hair during the process, so that it is actually possible for hair to emerge from a permanent wave in better health than it was before.

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

Like the man who reads his own "house for sale" ad and decides that he must be crazy to have thought of selling in the first place, reading about the Poconos in the Modern Bride magazine makes you a little ashamed of all the mean thoughts you've been thinking about drifted driveways, and unshoveled sidewalks, and frozen pumps.

Full of this pure, invigorating, pine-scented air, we ought to be grateful that we can spend a lifetime, not just a honeymoon here. Just the same, the emphasis is stories and pictures is Springtime in the Poconos, you'll notice.

The male contingent of the Daily Record weren't a bit interested in where the pictures were taken but with one accord they wanted to know who were the girls. The girls were models, and they came in here late last Spring, and what a sight that was with wedding gowns by the dozen floating around the Nursery and Buck Hill.

Winter-time weddings in the Poconos don't float — they shovel walks, and push stuck cars, and rescue stranded guests. I was so amused with Helen Donaldson's account of her daughter's wedding last Saturday.

Timber Hill Farm has a beautiful location — and last weekend it was simply full with winter landscape at its most spectacular and most inaccessible.

"It seems a pity," she remarked, "that newspapers can't print stories of all the exciting happenings of a wedding weekend in swirling snow, drifts, stuck cars, rescuing parties, emergency plowing and all the rest instead of details of clothing!"

I quite agree — and I don't know why we don't except most brides want more formal stories for their scrapbooks.

Still on the hearts and flowers theme, Valentine's Day and the Heart Assn. dinner matched up very well, and a lot of men teachers from a lot of the county's high schools can go around wearing their place-card hearts on their sleeves today.

But there was one funny thing: the teachers of science and health education were all men but the outstanding science students with an interest in a medical career were all girls. I don't know whether that's a portent of the future or whether boys who want to be doctors don't tell anybody.

Gra-Y Plans Miniature Fashion Show

Interest in fashions knows no age. Members of the Gra-Y, including children from third through sixth grades in both Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg have decided to hold a fashion show. The fashions for fiedgellings will be modeled on Thursday, February 20, at 7 p.m.

The styles for both boys and girls within that age group are being provided by Wyckoff's with William Wells in charge of arrangements. Tickets are on sale at Wyckoff's and also at the YMCA.

AGAINST THE BACKGROUND of the Moravian Church in Canadensis, Modern Bride magazine leads off its portfolio of wedding gowns pictured in the Poconos. With the permission of Modern Bride, The Daily Record will run the entire portfolio for local brides planning on June weddings. The dress above is a voluminous-skirted dress of lustrous Dupioni silk. Touches of re-embroidered Alencon-type lace appliques point up the portrait neckline and long, slim waist. A crown of imported orange blossoms holds drifts of tulle veiling which reach to the ground. ## Poconos In Springtime Star In 1958 Modern Bride

The Poconos, honeymoon wonderland of Pennsylvania, got a big boost in the Spring, 1958, edition of Modern Bride now on the newsstands. Not only are six full-page pictures of wedding gowns taken in Pocono settings, but an additional seven pages are devoted to the activities of the region as a honeymoon resort with some 50 pictures of Pocono pastimes, as well as a map of the area.

The pictures of the bridal gowns were taken at Canadensis, La-Bar's Rhododendron Nursery, and The Inn at Buck Hill Falls. The story, a paean of praise for

Square Dance For Clearview School Library

Final plans for the square dance to be held Saturday at 8 p.m. at the Clearview School, were consummated at the regular meeting of the PTA held at the school on Monday night. It was announced that Ray Poorstra would be the caller.

The dance is for the benefit of the Library Fund. The PTA inaugurated the plans to start a library at the school two years ago and last year purchased over $400 worth of books for it. They are hoping that the square dance along with other activities this year, will enable them to donate that amount again this year. With the help of the amount allocated each year toward library books by the Stroud Union School District, they hope to build up the best elementary school libraries in the area.

Conference Report For PTA Group

Analomink Parent Teachers Assn. at their meeting on Tuesday night joined the ranks of Stroud PTA groups who have had a personal report on the state conference on education. Stroud Union Superintendent Earl Groner, a chairman of one of the groups at the conference, discussed the conference in detail.

Although some newspapers picked up certain controversial suggestions such as the longer school year and increased emphasis on science, the conference itself was exploratory, attempting to get a cross section of opinions, and ideas and to re-study values.

An aroused public interest and stimulation of educational thinking are already two important impacts of the conference, Groner said, to be implemented when the discussions at the conference have been analyzed in detail.

Marine Corps Will Assist PTA Project

The Marine Corps Veterans Assn. of Monroe County has joined forces with the Ramsey Parent Teachers Assn. in attempting to raise funds for playground equipment. Robert Shaw, president of the Ramsey PTA, brought the matter to the Marine's organization of which he is a past president.

There are about 400 pupils at the school, he said, with at least one third from out of town who eat their lunches at the school. With no playground equipment these children are left with three-quarters of an hour with nothing to do.

The Marine group voted to sponsor a tag day in cooperation with the PTA. They plan a house-to-house drive as well as selling tags in the business section as well as in Water Gap area where many of the Ramsey pupils live.

The group will hold a special meeting with the PTA to consolidate forces.

Charter Presentation

The charter of Troop 93, Boy Scouts of Saylorsburg will be presented on Sunday night at 7:30 p.m. at Christ Hamilton Church. Parents are invited to accompany the Boy Scouts and a film will be shown.

Rebekah Party

Rachel Brodhead Rebekah Lodge will hold a Valentine Party at their meeting on Friday night at 7:30 at the Fort Penn Lodge Hall.

Poverty Party By Barrett Democrats

Barrett — The Barrett Women's Democratic Club are having a poverty party on Saturday, Feb. 15 at 8:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Audrey Siglin for members, friends and husbands. Come dressed in old clothes and any old hat will do. There will be prizes for outstanding costumes.

The next regular monthly meeting of the Club will be on Friday, February 28 at the home of Mrs. Ike Siglin in Mountain-home.

Sodality Plans Valentine Dance Sunday

A St. Valentine's Dance was planned by the Blessed Virgin Sodality for Sunday night, February 16 in the school auditorium from 8 to 11 p.m. All teenagers are invited. Proceeds will be used for the fund to finance a trip by the group to see the Passion Play sometime during Lent. Refreshments will be served.

Plans for the dance were made at the meeting of the Sodality on Monday night in the school auditorium. Refreshments and dancing followed the meeting. Both boys and girls are welcome to attend those monthly meetings.

Rev. H. C. Eaton Speaks To Couples Club

Portland — The Couples Club of the Portland Presbyterian Church met on Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hughes. The Rev. Harold Eaton of East Stroudsburg, gave a talk and showed slides on his trip to Japan. A question period followed.

Mrs. Lloyd Newbaker Jr. presided at the business meeting. The next meeting will be on Sunday night, February 23, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sigatass. A social time with refreshments followed.

Lincoln Theme Of Garden Club Program

Tannersville — An attendance of 30 members and one guest, Mrs. Lizzie Buitz marked the meeting of the Pocono Garden Club on Tuesday at the firehouse in Tannersville, despite the weather.

Mrs. Donald Hartman opened the meeting with a poem on Abraham Lincoln, and the exhibits featured table arrangements suitable for his birthday. Mrs. Elsie Besecker read a story, "Out Yonder" about Lincoln.

Mrs. Ruth Learn, Mrs. Elsie Besecker and Mrs. August Hiltz conducted a musical flower quiz in the program arranged by Mrs. Edward Horn Sr.

Refreshments were served from a table decorated in the St. Valentine motif. Hostesses were Mrs. Grover Kresge, chairman; Mrs. Clyde Beehler, Mrs. Richard Cox, Mrs. Alma Dietrich, Mrs. Harry Hay and Mrs. Joseph Dunbar.

The next meeting will be held on March 11.

Fire Co. Aux. Aux. Licensed For Radio Work

Mt. Pocono — Seven members of the Mt. Pocono Fire Co. Aux. have received their licenses to operate the radio during fires. They are Mrs. Thos. Sabes, Mrs. George Bean, Mrs. Robert Besecker, Mrs. A. MacWilliams, Mrs. Dave Bishler, Mrs. Joe Hodgson, and Mrs. Charles Brock.

Mrs. O. W. McGargle conducted the regular monthly meeting held Tuesday at the fire hall, and there was a good attendance. There was a report on the first youth dance. The next dance will be February 22. The chaperones will be Mr. and Mrs. David Bishler and Mr. and Mrs. George Bean. These dances will be held twice each month, on Saturday night for all young folk.

Plans for the annual Carnival will be started at the March meeting.

Refreshments were served by the following hostesses — Mesdames, Homer Jones, John Kuhn, John Lisanich, David Kohn and J. E. Martin.

Miss Helen Donaldson Wed In Trinity Episcopal Church

Mount Pocono — The Trinity Episcopal Church, Mount Pocono, was the setting for the winter wedding of Miss Helen Louise Donaldson, daughter of Mrs. Roderick Douglas Donaldson and the late Mr. Donaldson, to John Reaney Wolfe, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Reaney Wolfe of Baltimore, Md.

Rev. Thomas Shoemith, rector emeritus of Christ Church, Stroudsburg, performed the double ring ceremony at 3 p.m. on Saturday. Wallace Hornbrook was organist. The candle-lit church was decorated with white flowers.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Robert Montgomery Donaldson of Lloyd's Neck, R.I., wore a gown of ivory satin, fashioned on princess lines with a yoke of Alencon lace embroidered with pearls and a sweep train. Her fingertip veil had a face-framing halo of family heirloom lace. She carried a bouquet of feathered white carnations, stephanotis and hemlock.

She was attended by her sister, Miss Edith Hume Donaldson as maid of honor, and by Mrs. John Hopkins of Providence, R.I. and Miss Sally Kirk Donaldson of Lloyd's Neck, as bridesmaids. The attendants all wore gowns of blue green taffeta and carried bouquets of feathered yellow carnations, stephanotis and hemlock. Their head veils and slippers were of emerald green.

Francis Eugene Steiner Wolfe of Gibson Island, Md., served as his brother's best man. The ushers were another brother, James Reaney Wolfe Jr. of Baltimore, and John Hopkins of Providence, R.I.

The bride's mother wore a dress of soft medium blue with a corsage of mauve cymbidium orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore toast brown with dark brown accessories. Her corsage was of yellow cymbidium orchids.

A reception for about 60 guests, mostly from out of town, was held at the bride's home, Timber Hill Farm. Candles and flower arrangements of white carnations, snapdragons and hemlock formed the setting.

On the wedding eve, Mr. and Mrs. David Hunter of Brooklyn and Henryville entertained the wedding party, family and friends at a buffet dinner.

On the day of the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shutt of Chatham, N.J., and Henryville, entertained the wedding party and young guests at a luncheon while the family and older friends were the guests of the bridegroom's parents at a luncheon at The Antlers, East Stroudsburg.

Miss Jean Elizabeth Hofford

Jean Hofford Engaged To W. E. Everett

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hofford of Stroudsburg RD 3, announce the engagement of their daughter, Jean Elizabeth, to William Earl Everett, son of Fred Everett of Effort.

Miss Hofford is a senior at Pocono High School. Mr. Everett attended Chestnut Hill High School and is employed by Ronson, Inc.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Declare Winter Recess

Mount Pocono — Miss Eloise Bryan, president of the Pocono Mountains Council of Republican Women, announced that the January meeting has been cancelled and that definite plans for the February meeting will depend on weather conditions. Members will be notified of any meeting.

The Wyckoff Shopper

LAST CALL, GENTLEMEN . . . and don't say I didn't try to save your face, your neck, and even your happy home. THIS is Valentine's Day . . . and there isn't a wife or a sweetheart ANYWHERE who isn't expecting her favorite man to celebrate the day in some way.

There's actually no excuse NOT to be thoughtful today. Every ad in the newspaper (except those run by the mortician) have been blossoming forth with Valentine sentiments for weeks. Every radio commercial has been geared to Valentine's Day. If you still don't know about it, I for one think your wife, or sweetheart, is well within her rights to shoot you . . . or at least refuse to listen to your favorite jokes and cook your favorite foods.

If you haven't bought that Valentine yet, it's my advice that you rush in first thing today and tend to that little matter . . . there isn't a woman alive so cynical or uncaring that her heart won't flutter just a bit fasted if the man-who-really-matters let's her know she's on his mind. This being true, a Valentine is a very economical purchase. You can buy a beauty for only 25c . . . but have you noticed the rising cost of DOG HOUSES?

They can say what they wish about the father of the bride being just an extra wheel at a wedding — but Fran Meredith of our display department discovered there's a lot of dad must do besides foot the bills and give the bride away. In preparation for Anne's marriage, Fran "vacationed" for at least a week prior to the ceremony; and the entire day after the big event he was busy "undoing" the decorations, and seeing that everything was returned to its proper place. Of course, it was well worth the effort. Everyone we've encountered is still talking about how beautiful it was, how stunning the colors were and what a delightful idea it was to have the bride's attendants carry fur muffs, to match their head bands, with flowers attached . . . One of the loveliest dresses on display at Wyckoff's for a little girl, size 8, is of navy blue pique with a white, lace-trimmed pique sleeveless blouse, and a navy jacket with 3/4 sleeves edged in lace. The price is just 10.98 . . . Mrs. A. L. Rhoads may be in Florida — but she's still thinking about Wyckoff's and doing her shopping here. Strange that greetings should come from the "SUNNY" (?) southland, just about the time I asked Bill Wells why I hadn't seen her around our store lately . . . Usually I hesitate to mention my "boss's" family in the column, but so many persons have been so interested in knowing how Mrs. Wyckoff is coming along, it's my very great pleasure to report that she's much improved. Somehow the store isn't the same when she isn't in and out frequently — and she has been most sincerely missed by us all . . . Carrie Rusk shows us an adorable Judy Bond chemise blouse which wins me over once and for all to the straight new look of spring. This is Dacron and Cotton in white only, with a banded V neckline, and low slung loose belt. The price, 5.98 . . . Do the local girls like the chemise look? Well, says Carrie, they're buying it. The two piece cotton knits with chemise blouses (one style a sailor) disappeared from our counters like snow on a July day. And, Carrie adds, "the girls looked as cute as Christmas in them."

Smithfield Taxpayers' Progress Report On County Property Valuation Survey

Guest speaker at a special meeting for property owners, sponsored by the Smithfield School PTA, Monday night, was Lemuel J. Kennedy, project supervisor for J. L. Jacobs & Co. of Chicago. The Jacobs firm is currently engaged in the task of establishing appraisals for all properties within Monroe County.

In his detailed presentation of the procedures followed by his firm Mr. Kennedy emphasized the following points:

- 1) The Jacobs Company does not make assessments, they only make appraisals.
- 2) They are charged with the complete reappraisal of all taxable property and the preparation of a complete set of tax maps for the county.
- 3) Their objective is to establish a "conservative present day market value" for all properties.
- 4) To accomplish this several procedures are utilized including: aerial photography; close check on construction costs for labor and materials; careful review of property sales over a period of years; and on the ground inspection by trained personnel of both land as well as interiors and exteriors of buildings.
- 5) After extensive analysis basic standards are established and all collected information is recorded on individual property cards. These cards form a permanent record.
- 6) At the conclusion of their work each property owner will be notified of the new appraisal by meeting with a member of the J. L. Jacobs firm.
- 7) A 30-day informal review period will follow in which the property owner may contest the appraisal by meeting with a member of the J. L. Jacobs firm.
- 8) After adjustments have been made, the final figures will then be turned over to the County Commissioners who in turn will establish the assessment rate for tax purposes, to conform with the budget requirements of the county.
- 9) Tax equalization should then become a reality with all Monroe County taxpayers paying taxes at the same per cent of established value.

Kennedy had particular praise for the Chief Trx Assessor, George K. Brands whom he stated has a most thorough knowledge of this county's 611 square miles. He also said he had never run across a more "tax conscious" county anywhere and viewed this as good, since people appear to be interested in the completion of the equalization program as rapidly as possible. Cooperation on the part of Monroe County citizens has been excellent, he said.

At the conclusion of the program Monroe County will have complete up-to-date property records for the first time. If building permits are enforced, backed up with tax maps and property record cards suitably posted, then the newly established system will serve the needs of the county well for years to come. However, if this procedure is not followed, Mr. Kennedy warned that "within one year's time" all the expense and work that will have gone into this project will have been wasted.

Kennedy said that the J. L. Jacobs firm is now 60-65% through with their field work.

Business Column

Certificates Presented To Two Plumbers

THE FIRM of R. J. Groner, plumbing and heating contractor, announced yesterday that Robert B. Haigh and Fred S. Miller, members of the company, have been awarded certificates of completion of the course prescribed by the I-B-R Heating and Cooling School.

The Institute of Boiler and Radiator Manufacturers, a non-profit research organization with headquarters at the University of Illinois, conducts field schools each year at strategic locations throughout the United States and Canada.

The school through which Haigh and Miller were recently awarded their certificates was held at Philadelphia. It was based on a completely new course in designing and installing "Hydronic" Systems — the science of heating and cooling with liquids.

The practical application of information received at the school results in the following advantages to the consumer: (1) Better design and installation of liquid heating and cooling; and, (2) methods by which time and material can be saved in installations—with ultimate savings to the home-owner.

In addition to the I-B-R Courses just completed, members of the R. J. Groner organization have attended oil burner schools frequently over the past 20 years in order to keep abreast of improvements in design and operation. The latest instructions were in the category of oil burners using heavy oil for commercial application.

The firm of R. J. Groner, located at 18 South 8th St., Stroudsburg, is a member of local, state, and National Associations of Plumbing Contractors, and National Federation of Independent Businesses.

HONORING the creation of its world famous ginger ale, Canada Dry is launching a Golden Anniversary Celebration in February with a major promotion featuring a generous refund offer to consumers.

It was early in the century that J. J. McLaughlin, a gold medal chemist of Toronto, marketed the first pale dry ginger ale the world has ever known. "It may sound immodest now, but it is a fact that this product had a revolutionary effect on consumer drinking habits," said C. E. Weber, manager of the Canada Dry Bottling Co. of the Lehigh Valley.

"For our Golden Anniversary Celebration, we are treating all the consumers who brought us success, by offering them drinks on the house."

During the four-week promotion, all family-size Canada Dry Ginger Ale will be capped with special gold crowns. Consumers are invited to mail three gold crowns to Canada Dry for a 30-cent refund.

"This gives them more than a full bottle free," said Weber, "as our way of saying Thanks, America."

RONSON CORP. announced that it has nearly doubled its sales force, according to Herbert M. Stein, General Sales Manager, at the company's recent annual sales meeting in Newark, N. J.

Stein said that Ronson's program of product diversification encouraged this increase in its national network of sales representatives.

Ronson also announced a reorganization of its expanded sales force.

This resulted in adding a fourth sales region, headquartered in Dallas, with J. Russ Boylan as Southwest Regional Sales Manager. Ronson's other regional sales posts: George W. Hill, East, New York; Nathan Karzen, Midwest, Chicago; Jock O'Connor, West, Los Angeles.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY — Caramella News Agency, East Stroudsburg, is marking its 50th anniversary, having been founded in 1908 by Lewis Caramella. His grandson, also named Lewis, is shown in front of the outdoor newspaper display stand. The latter's mother, Mrs. George Caramella, has been owner of business since death of husband nearly eight years ago.

Carmella News Agency Celebrating 50th Year

THE CARMELLA News Agency at 135 Crystal St., East Stroudsburg, is celebrating its 50th anniversary this year. The business was founded by Lewis Caramella in 1908 and operated continuously in the same family except for a seven-year period.

Present Owners

George Caramella, son of the founder, took over the business about 30 years ago and conducted it until his death in June, 1950. His widow is the present owner and their children, George Jr. and Mrs. Ann Atwell, are the operators.

One of the oldest, if not the oldest, newsstand in Monroe County, the Caramella News Agency has been an agent for The Daily Record since the newspaper was founded in 1909. It also handled The Monroe Record, a weekly first published in 1908 and later merged with The Daily Record.

Surplus Food Line Increases

MONROE County Commissioners found some added evidence of unemployment increases in this area yesterday.

H. Ray Saunders, chief commission clerk, was reporting on the number of persons who received surplus food this week.

Steady Rise

There were, Saunders said, 1,189 persons in line this week. The total is 100 more than for the month of January, he said.

During the past few months the number of persons applying for and getting surplus foods has risen slowly but steadily.

Licensed In New Jersey

ALEXANDER P. Sweeney of 765 Main St., Stroudsburg, has been notified that he has passed New Jersey barber examinations and is eligible to practice his trade in that state.

Sweeney's notification was signed by Frank Marchese, secretary of the board of barber examiners of the State Dept. of Health.

THE KEY IS NOT "UNDER THE MAT"!

There's nothing "home-made" about the security a modern safe deposit box offers you — round-the-clock protection of a steel and concrete vault.

The key is definitely not under the mat. What's more, it takes two different keys to open your safe deposit box... your key which you keep in a safe place at home; and ours, which is kept under guard. Only you or your authorized agent can unlock your box.

For less than two cents a day, you can stop worrying about your irreplaceable papers and valuables. You'll always know where they are, all safe in one place — out of everyone's reach but yours.

Pathfinders Clear the Way

A Pathfinder team lines up with the gear needed for a parachute mission.

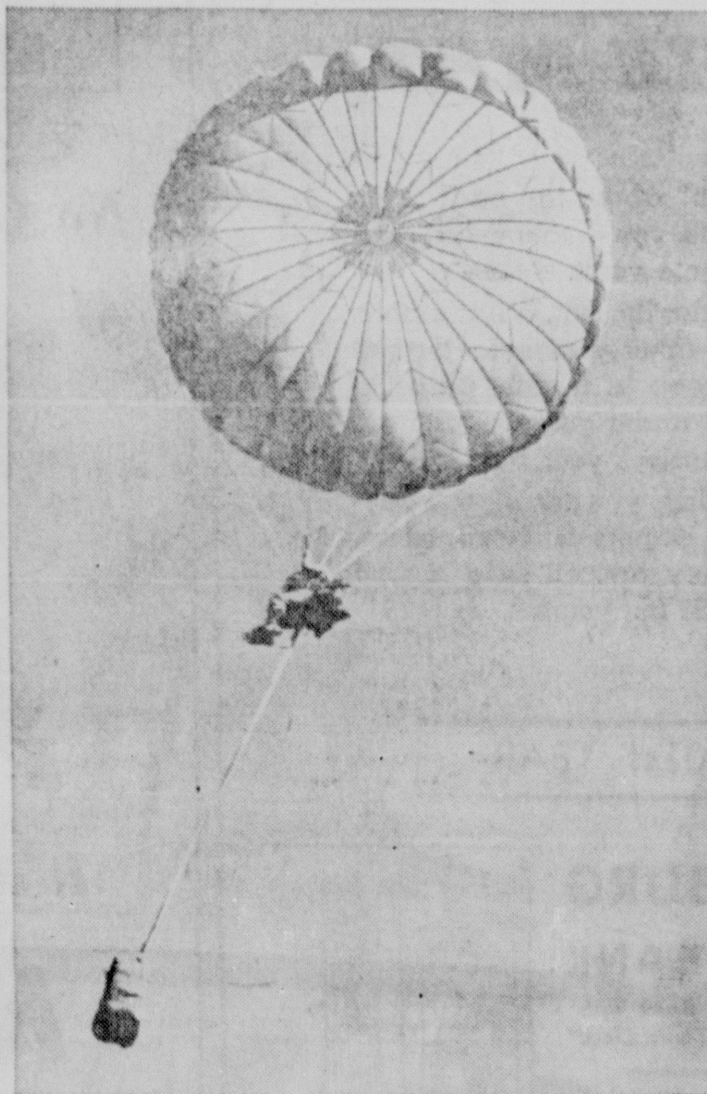

UNITED STATES Marines have travelled far since their "Halls of Montezuma" days and they are still on the march. Newest breed of Leatherneck can be found in the first reconnaissance company of the famed First Marine division. These men operate on land, water or in the air and they are dedicated specialists in their job. These photos, taken at Camp Pendleton, Calif., demonstrate part of the work done by Pathfinder teams. They go on parachute missions to set the stage for guiding helicopter-borne assault forces into landing sites and then assisting them in moving from the landing zone. Equipment averages from 50 to 90 pounds a man. It includes parachutes, lanterns, machineguns, ammunition, radios, flares, grenades, knapsacks and clothing. Amphibious reconnaissance scouts learn to escape through the hatch of a submerged submarine in first step toward an underwater swim to the beachhead held by the enemy.

Wearing aqua-lungs, they enter the escape hatch.

A scout surfaces to take a reading with compass.

Marine parachutes down. Gear hangs from line.

Stroudsburg Firemen To Hold Dance

THE 11th annual dance of the Stroudsburg Fire Department will be held at the American Legion Home in East Stroudsburg tonight.

The return from the tickets has been good. The committee urges all who have not turned in their money for the tickets to do so in the very near future.

It is urged that reservations be made in advance due to the large crowd expected. Reservations may be made at the following telephone numbers—463-J or 4129.

The hall has been decorated for the occasion with ample space for dancing and a large stage for orchestra and floor show. Ample parking space will be available.

Orchestra
Tommy Cullen's orchestra will provide the music. Cullen is a member of Fred Waring's Pennsylvanians. Round and square dancing will be provided.

The committee has selected a well rounded floor show. The following acts have been selected: Jerry Young, comedy Emcee and Impressions; Dave Monahan, sensational and outstanding xylophonist with his puppets, Peyton & Raye, "Puttin on the Dog!" an acrobatic act with their trained Pomeranian dogs.

Dancing will be from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Three Called By Draft

"WIPE AWAY those tears ma, I'm only going to play a game of basketball."

That will be the extent of it, when not-too-old oldtimers gather at the annual reunion of the Bi-State Basketball League in Easton High's gymnasium, Saturday night, March 22.

The Stroudsburgs will be represented in the persons of Line Material team of East Stroudsburg and Portland, both members of the circuit during the 1939-40-41 seasons. Portland's presence will be in charge of Sid Efron, the Detroit Tigers' scout in the summer and Blairstown High principal in the winter. A leader for LM hasn't been designated as yet.

Line Material's team of the bygone days was composed of such athletic greats as Chet Gross, Tommy Sommers, Chink Tweedie, Jimmy Dave, Sam Zaccaro, Elmer Bonser, Verne Rosso, Dick Batchelor and Coach Dick Altomero.

As yet none of the court phenoms of the late thirties have indicated they will accept the invitation to "play" in the old-time rule contest, specifying "rests"—center jumps after each basket or successful foul shot.

Another contest between the ex-stars will be played under the current "racehorse" regulations.

According to Al Misero, the general chairman of the event, the Bi-Staters will be divided into squads of the Easton Area and Up-Valley teams—namely Palmerton, Marshalls Creek, Portland, Line Material, and Nazareth.

Easton's picks will come from the old St. Anthony, Reigel Ridge, Easton Triangles, Weston Club, YMID, YMHA, YMCA, Fountain Hill, Bethlehem Sokols, St. John's of Bethlehem.

Misero said that March 15 has been set as the deadline for players to register for participating in the games at Easton High, and after-games party in the Weston Club. The Bi-Staters' title will get under way at 8 p.m.

One big item the group has in mind is the return to old admission prices. A charge of 35 cents per ticket is the cost of taking in the contests.

Line Material didn't win any championship in the Bi-State in those days but the Stroudsburg-indentured quintet gained the respect of the entire Lehigh Valley during the 40-41 campaign.

According to the legend—anything over 10-years-old is a legend—LM had gone without a win practically the entire season until they met Palmerton. So the story goes, the East Stroudsburg-based team defeated Zinesters.

However, after the story was printed of the big upset, local team officials came forward and announced that they had used an ineligible player in downing Palmerton.

At an impromptu banquet following the season, Line Material was presented a trophy for the best display of sportsmanship by a team in the Bi-State.

Another missive out of the Bi-State League was the great play of Pete Pasko, the gent who rewrote the records at East Stroudsburg State Teachers, following his sojourn in the Class A loop.

Pasko, while a member of the Weston Club team, had as his mates such stars as Ken Stone, Joe Antolick—former baseball manager of the Stroudsburg Poconos—and Lynn Norman.

In the League's title game three of the top coaches of the East took in the contest. Looking on and searching for material were Duggie Julian, then of Muhlenberg and now of Dartmouth; Billy Ferguson, tutor of St. Joseph's national champion Mighty Mites; and Clair Bee, then of Long Island University.

Again the legend says Julian was willing to take the Weston team to Muhlenberg as a unit; Ferguson had the same idea for St. Joseph's; and Bee was willing to settle for Pasko, Stone and Norman.

The Bi-State gave the fans of the area good basketball, and colleges better players. Nostalgia will certainly hang over Easton High's gymnasium and the Weston Club when these vets of the court get together to puff, and relax the night of Saturday, March 22.

NCAA Opposed To Pros Using College Facilities

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 13 (AP)—The president of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. told the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph today the NCAA is opposed to professional teams using college facilities.

Gale Kerwin TV Choice

NEW YORK, Feb. 13 (AP)—Stefan Redl is unbeaten in 17 fights but Gale Kerwin is favored to snap that streak tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden. The two young welterweights represent the new crop that is moving into camera range.

Redl, 24, recently completed six months in the Army at Fort Dix, N.J., although he still is not an American citizen. Hungarian-born and raised in Germany, the stocky athlete settled in Passaic, N.J., in 1956. He has taken out his first citizenship papers.

The 10-round match with Kerwin will be Redl's first main event in the Garden and his most difficult test. In his brief pro career he has won 13 by knockouts and only four by decisions. He is moving up in class against Kerwin.

Garden fans haven't seen much of Kerwin, a 23-year-old boxer with a good left hook and a developing right hand punch. He was born in Ottawa and now lives at Valley Stream, N.Y.

Kerwin stepped up from the semifinals to fight against Johnny Busso in an October show at the Garden. He lost the decision but won the fans. In his first Garden shot on his own he whipped Jimmy Archer Dec. 20. Kerwin's record is 25-1.

Neither boxer is ranked among the top 10. Kerwin is favored at 8-5.

History Made 46 Years Ago

FORTY-six years ago today the first organized Stroudsburg High School basketball team went into action for the first time. It was a far cry from the racehorse tactics of today's court teams, but it was the one of the best teams of its era.

In fact, the then Mountaineer quintet didn't dare stay in high school circles but was forced to play colleges, academies and top-flight independent fives to fill a schedule.

When Coach Frank Edinger, now of Wyckoff-Sears Company, courted the first team such stalwarts of the double-dribble, close-guarding day as Ray Bonyne, Bill Dutton, Chris Hess, Frank Eilenberger, Frank Bossard, Harry Keller and Carl Kintz made up the team.

The opening game, played in State Wayne gymnasium, was against East Stroudsburg Teachers Normal School. Coached by Leon Richmond, the future teachers edged Stroudsburg in its inaugural, 21-20. The referee in that clash was the late George N. Kemp.

According to old-timers the game drew the biggest crowd ever to witness a contest in Wayne gym. "They turned them away that night," Eilenberger recalls.

Stroudsburg, while not the winningest club of that period, played Easton, Nazareth, Millersville, Reading, Scranton All-Stars, Scranton Central, Pen Argyl and another all-star aggregation from Bucks County.

Good Record
They had a better than .500 won and loss record, a mark so excellent that a game was setup with the considered tops Akum five of Easton-Phillipsburg area.

The Akum, led by Gaston and Marquand of Lafayette fame, bested Stroudsburg that year, 28-14, in Artiga Hall, Phillipsburg.

In the same year, Kemp, a student at Franklin Marshall at the time, brought a Diplomate team to East Stroudsburg to meet the Normal School.

The comparative strength of the 1912 Stroudsburg High team was evident in this clash as the F&M bowed to the Teachers, 23-22.

It was an era of low-scoring games, Eilenberger says. "Why I remembered when Stroudsburg High lost a close one to East Stroudsburg in the old Armory just because James Loder did an excellent guarding job on Forrest Mervine, the present day well-known attorney."

Key Figures
East Stroudsburg's key figures in that upset of the Mountaineers were Ray and Dan Marvin.

Eilenberger in going back over the years noted, "Bonyne was a terrific player. So good, in fact that he turned professional and played with the best teams in the nation."

"Dutton, now a writer for the Saturday Evening Post, was good. So was Bossard, Kintz, Keller, and Hess. We had a fine team, balanced all-around," he recalled.

"Today it's a different type game altogether. It seems the theme is let the players shoot. If we did that in our day, Coach Edinger would yank us out. Our job was to stick to our opponent like glue. And we did or else," he analyzed.

Eilenberger didn't say it but the first wasn't last in 1912. The first organized five opened

Woodling Expects To Sign Soon

CLEVELAND, Feb. 13 (AP)—Gene Woodling said today he thinks his salary dispute with Cleveland Indians' General Manager Frank Lane will be settled before March 1.

That, however, doesn't lessen the veteran outfielder's objection to Lane's plan to chop $100 a day from the club's contract offer to any player unsigned by March 1. "I'm still amazed at Lane's plan," Woodling said. He called it "completely unfair."

Woodling, 35, explained he had no intention of bringing the matter to Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, who said today he also had "never heard of such a thing."

As Lane proposed earlier this week, "Officially, I'm not a holdout until March 1," Woodling explained. "We'll see what happens when we come to that date. But, frankly, I expect no difficulty in signing a contract."

2 or 3 Thousand
Woodling said the difference between his pay demand and Lane's offer was small—"about two or three thousand dollars."

It has been guessed that Woodling received about $23,000 last season. Lane reportedly offered the former New York Yankee outfielder a $7,000 boost. Woodling led the club with a .321 batting average in 1957 and was chosen by Cleveland baseball writers as the Tribe's "man of the year."

Told of Frick's statements, Lane said: "We offer a certain amount of money to a player based on his reporting with the rest of the players... I'm not fining Woodling or anyone else. I'm simply lowering my offer to him by $100 each day after March 1. There's a big difference."

Yost Approves Senators Pact
WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (AP)—The Washington Senators today signed their veteran third baseman Eddie Yost to his 1958 contract.

There was no official word on how much Yost will get in his 14th season with Washington but it was understood his salary will be about the same $18,000 he received last year.

Larsen Agrees To Yank Terms
NEW YORK, Feb. 13 (AP)—Big Don Larsen, the no-hit pitcher of the 1956 World Series, has signed his 1958 contract, the New York Yankees revealed today.

The husky right-hander from San Diego, Calif., won 10 games and lost only four last season while posting a 3.73 earned run average.

ESSTC Five Bows, 93-72

Millersville's Rebounding, Fast Break Downs Warriors

MILLERSVILLE TEACHERS' superiority off the boards and a race-horse second half fast break sent East Stroudsburg State Teachers down to a 93-72 defeat before 800 in the Warriors gymnasium last night.

The Warriors, vaulted by a spectacular 21-point first half performance by Charley German stayed with the Marauders the first 20 minutes before going down to its fifth loss in 11 games.

But in the second half it was a different story as Millersville cleaned the banks consistently and rode three and one, two and one fast breaks to pull away markers.

It was the Marauders 12th win in 16 games and their eighth in nine Pennsylvania Teachers Conference frays. ESSTC is 2-3 in the state loop.

26 For German
With German, who ended up the night the game's top scorer with 26, putting on a one man driving show off beautiful passes by Steve Oliveri and blocks of his mates, the Warriors matched the visitors point for point until the midway mark in the period.

Helped by Oliveri's seven-point sortie and German's continued success in close, ESSTC actually pulled away to a five point edge 34-29, with less than two minutes remaining until halftime.

A surge by Jim Bishop on sets and Bill Lukivitch on pushers shot the Marauders ahead 40-38, however right before halftime.

From the opening whistle of the second half, Millersville took over control of the game as Syl Williams and Rodge Rife moved on the front end of the speedy offense for 16 points, and a 68-49 pad. From here on out it was the Marauders holding its bulge and actually increasing it to 23 points, 86-63, before the reserve on both sides came in and ran out the clock.

Williams and Rife paced the Marauders with 13 each.

Weigner Tabs 15
Karl Weigner, and Oliver followed German in the double figures with 15 and 10.

East Stroudsburg's junior varsity posted its 11th straight triumph, besting Gray's Chevrolet of the Pocono Mountain League, 48-37.

At Stockholm led the Little Warriors with 19 tallies.

Stroudsburg Junior High Rips Pen Argyl, 49-13

PEN ARGYL—Stroudsburg Junior High, sparked by the 29-marker shotmaking of Warren (Little Mag) Loney, romped over Pen Argyl Junior High here yesterday.

The Littlest Mountaineers bounced away to a 10-2 lead in the first period and were never in trouble thereafter.

A 21-point final period clinched the verdict for Stroudsburg. It was Vern Hontz' five fifth win in six games.

Monroe Scholastic Loop, Varsity 'S', 'E' Support First Annual Basketball Clinic

FULL ENDORSEMENT by all the schools in the Monroe County Scholastic Basketball League and the support of the Varsity "S" Association of Stroudsburg and Varsity "E" Club of East Stroudsburg, assured further success of the first annual Monroe County Schoolboy Basketball Clinic.

It was announced yesterday by T. Manning (Cap) Curtis, head of the event scheduled for all-day Saturday, Feb. 22, at Stroudsburg High's gymnasium, that Pocono Twp., Coalsburg, Tobyhanna, Chestnut Hill, Polk and Barrett high schools had donated five dollars each to help defray expenditures.

$10 Donations
Curtis also said that the Varsity "S" and "E" advised that a $10 donation from each sports-backing organization would be forthcoming soon.

Stroudsburg High and East Stroudsburg are expected to give approval of the clinic when their respective athletic associations meet this week and next.

5th Grade Up
The clinic, featuring Clair Bee as head instructor, is open to all schoolboys from fifth grade through high school. Classes will start at 10 a. m. and continue through 3 p. m.

A one-hour break for lunch from noon to 1 p. m. will split the clinic up into two parts.

Boxer Died Of Severed Head Artery

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 13.—A young boxer injured fatally in a Golden Gloves match died from a severed artery in the back of his head, the coroner's office said today.

Melvin Young, 17, Chicago Negro was knocked out last night in the first round of his 125-pound bout with Joe Becerra, 16, of Granite City.

Young was pronounced dead upon his arrival at St. John's Hospital.

Two hours earlier, Young fought another opponent, Richard Graham of Beardstown—and won by a knockout.

The coroner's office said an autopsy report indicated the severed artery, which brought on a hemorrhage, resulted when Young's head struck the bottom ring rope. An inquest will be held Monday.

James Smith, Junior Chamber of Commerce chairman of the bouts, said all boxers were given physical examinations Wednesday.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

Let The Ball Catch Up

I WAS given a golf tip once that was the best I ever got: Wait for the clubhead. In other words, keep the head still. Don't move it forward in the downswing.

This applies as well to the body in bowling. Get your body ahead of the swing and you wind up at the foul line dropping the ball, as the sketch shows.

In golf the clubhead must pass the hands at impact. In bowling the swing must pass the sliding left leg at the foul line.

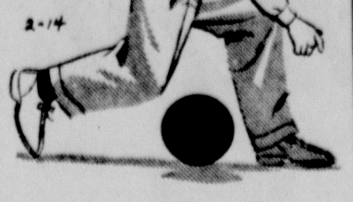

When you're dropping the ball too soon, you're in trouble from the start. You're rushing the first step. And the swing just doesn't overtake your footwork at the foul line, as it must.

Chances are the quick first step is the result of trying for extra speed—which you DON'T get by accelerating footwork. Speed is created by the length of the swinging arc. You can throw the ball, muscle it, but you can't be sure where it's going.

Forget Speed

Don't think of speed at all. Concentrate only on the easy push-away of the ball, timed with a short, slow first step with the right foot in four-step footwork.

Be relaxed as you push the ball forward, outward, so that the weight of the ball will drop your shoulders down comfortably during the backswing. Then just keep going ahead to the foul line, letting the ball swing freely. It's momentum gets you to the line. Arc determines speed—and pushing regulates the arc.

Indonesia Rejects Plan

JAKARTA, Indonesia, Feb. 13

(AP)—Premier Djuanda's Cabinet tonight rejected a rebel ultimatum calling for it to quit.

Parrying the threat, it ordered discharge from army service of four young colonels leading the ouster of the government.

Chief target of the disciplinary action was Lt. Col. Achmad

Husein, military commander in central Sumatra, a hotbed of rebellion.

Deer Face New Enemy

CHARLESTON, W.Va., Feb. 13 (AP)—The Conservation Department today logged a new kind of complaint against deer.

Conservation Officer R. O.

Withers of Webster Springs reported a resident of that county came into his office to say deer were interrupting television reception.

The man's TV antenna stands on a hill near his home. He said deer either are constantly running into the lead-in wires and tearing them down, or turning the antenna and ruining the picture by running against the pole.

Package Of Seven Deeds On Record

SEVEN deeds involving transfer of lots in Polk Township to or from William H. and Eve M. George, Lower Townships, Carbon County, were filed yesterday in the office of Floyd Butz, register and recorder.

Four of them transfer lots to the Georges from Arlington J. Smale, Polk Township.

The three others transferred single lots from the Georges to Gerald L. and Elaine George, also of Lower Townships, to Bartine L. and Miriam H. George, Palmerton, and from Robert and Mary S. Beers, Trachville, to the Georges.

Others Filed
Other deeds filed included: Paul E. and Helen A. McBride, Stroud Township, to Floyd A. and Marie W. Segner, Paradise Township, lot in Paradise Township; Joseph A. and Amanda L. Pope, Coolbaugh Township, to Emanuel Keiper, Jr., and Eleanor Keiper, same address, lot in Coolbaugh Township.

David and Emma Kunkle, Kresgeville, to Robert Beers, Trachville, lot in Polk Township; Fred L. and Olive K. Scheller, Stroudsburg, to Lester C. and Helen M. Rice, same address, lot in Stroud Township.

Weller To Keep VA Office Open

MONROE County Commissioners John R. Lesoine and Willard Quick have appointed former County treasurer Frank J. Weller to serve as director of Veterans Affairs.

Weller's appointment, thus far, is on a temporary basis. The Commissioners have asked the local American Legion post and the Veterans of Foreign Wars for their recommendations to fill the post.

Agreement
The former County officeholder replaces Henry O. Walp in the veterans office on Sarah St. According to Commission chairman Lesoine, Weller agreed to serve temporarily to keep the office open.

Weller has been active in local veterans affairs for many years. The veterans office at 615 Sarah St. will be open from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday. Friday is visitation day during which the office is not open. On Saturdays it will be open from 9 a.m. to noon.

Democrats Plan

HARRISBURG, Feb. 13 (AP)—Six top Pennsylvania Democrats conferred with Gov. Leader today on slating a statewide organization ticket for the May 20 primary election campaign.

Two Powers Air Talks

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (AP)—The United States and Russia squared away today for diplomatic talks prior to any summit conference.

Secretary of State Dulles boosted things along with a news conference display of U.S. open-mindedness on the general subject of negotiating with Russians. For one thing, he said a foreign ministers' meeting was not a necessary preliminary to a summit conference.

And President Eisenhower accepted the credentials of the new Soviet ambassador to Washington, Mikhail A. Menshikov.

Credentials
In presenting his credentials at the White House, Menshikov extolled peaceful coexistence and cooperation. He pledged to spend all his time trying to strengthen U.S.-Soviet friendship and expressed hope he would meet with understanding and assistance.

Eisenhower responded that he was pleased to hear of Russia's "sincere friendship" because the American people have only the friendliest feelings toward the Soviet people. He promised Menshikov understanding and support.

Menshikov was among members of the Washington diplomatic corps invited to a White House state dinner tonight. About half the foreign diplomats in Washington were invited to the annual affair. The other half went to a similar dinner Monday night.
